CHARITY JOB WEEK

KS2 Storybook

Meet Leon and his fundraising team from Class 5.

It was Charity Week at Pride Place Primary School.

Leon and his friends were thinking about fundraising ideas.

“Let’s clean cars,” suggested Leon.

“Great idea!” everyone agreed.

“What do we need for that?” asked Sue.

They made a poster to put up in the library.
They worked out their prices and set themselves a fundraising target.
They also made some leaflets to hand out around school.

Leon's mum let them practice on her car.
She even gave them £5.
"This is fun, I can't wait to wash more cars on Saturday," said Leon.
"...And I'll be around if you need me," said Mum.

Saturday morning arrived and the team were ready to get started.

They didn't have to wait long for their first customer to arrive.

“Great,” said Leon. “Let's make some money!”

At the end of the day they were exhausted. They couldn't believe how hard they had all worked.

“How much money did we make?”

“Wow, that’s fantastic, we beat our target!”

“Let’s use some of it to treat ourselves to an ice cream!”

“Is it okay to do that?” said Sue. “We did say all the money to charity on the poster. We even opened a special bank account to keep the money safe.”

What is the right thing to do?

At school on Monday all the money the children made during Charity Week was added together.

And the final cheque was presented to their chosen charity.

“What a brilliant week,” said Leon.

They all agreed.

The next day they all appeared in the Pride News!
